Hi Kristine,

Kevin Russell has been very helpful. The link he sent me to the EPA-LWG server nonresponsive does not come up for me. Is this the correct link? I also will need login credentials to this server to be able to access the ADCP data.

Thanks,

Earl

I believe this is a shared LWG/EPA server. Here's a clean link that you should be able to cut and paste into your browser: nonresponsive

You should get a login screen that looks like the image pasted below (you should be able to get login credentials from your contact at EPA if you'd already have them). If you still have trouble let me know and I'll have someone that knows more about this than me help you. thanks

Kevin T. Russell

I got the message "SSL server probably obsolete". Is this a LWG or EPA server?
